RE: Extenet Affidavit of Co-Location Analysis

Ms. Lee

I, Joseph Milone the Director of Government Relations for Extenet Systems, LLC. swear that the information in this statement is truthful to the best of my knowledge and understanding.

On September 30, 2024, Extenet Systems filed an application with the city for a small cell wireless network throughout the city. Section 5-1505.C(3) requires that the applicant provide this affidavit confirming that an analysis of Co-location opportunities was conducted.

This project proposes a network of seven small cell wireless facilities to be attached to existing streetlights or utility poles. The purpose of a small cell network is to supplement and enhance existing coverage provided by any traditional macro (large cell towers) sites. As such, co-locating on any existing macro site it technically impossible and would provide no benefit to coverage or capacity.

In addition, through initial discussions with the city, we understand that Extenet is the first company to propose small cells within the city of Mission Hills. That being the case, there are no existing small cell locations to analyze for a co-location opportunity.

Given the above statements of fact, there are no opportunities within the city of Mission Hills for Extenet to co-locate any of the small cell facilities on existing wireless sites. For questions or additional information you can contact the city or the applicant representative, Mr. Joe Milone at jmilone@extenetsystems.com or 281-203-6100.

Respectfully submitted

Joseph Milone
Director of Government Relations
